Mesa, AZ — Mesa Arts Center is excited to announce a new collaboration with Classical Music Inside Out and Metropolitan Youth Symphony. Zuill Bailey, GRAMMY® Award-winning cellist and artistic director for Classical Music Inside Out, will perform Bruch: "Kol Nidrei" as a guest soloist during the Metropolitan Youth Symphony's Fall Concert on Wednesday, Nov. 8 at 6:30 p.m.

Get tickets at mesaartscenter.com or call the box office during regular business hours at 480-644-6500.

Mesa Arts Center's Classical Music Inside Out programs have engaged and delighted the community for over ten years. Mesa Arts Center and Zuill Bailey work tirelessly to bring classical music to the community in the form of free performances for schools and youth, master classes for young aspiring musicians and concerts in hospitals and assisted living facilities for people who might not otherwise be able to see a show at Mesa Arts Center.

"We're thrilled to inspire young musicians with this exciting new collaboration between Zuill Bailey and Metropolitan Youth Symphony," said Mandy Tripoli, interim director of Mesa Arts Center. "In addition to working with the next generation of musicians, the performance of 'Kol Nidrei' is incredibly timely in light of recent world events."

Metropolitan Youth Symphony is a founding resident company of Mesa Arts Center whose concerts offer an evening of brilliant music and talented young musicians. Ensembles include the String Orchestras, Full Symphony Orchestra and the Symphonic Wind Ensemble. Learn more about Metropolitan Youth Symphony at azmys.org.
